92.9 THE BULL COMING BACK?

When people see a good time, they tend to come back. When people have fun, they tend to come back. When it looks like things will happen again that you like, people tend to come back.

This week 92.9 The Bull will be back out at BriggsAuto.Com Speedway for the 2nd straight week.

Last week they registered people to ride in the BriggsAuto.Com Pace Car, drop the green flag for 1 of 4 features on the night and they gave away chances to be involved in a contest at intermission to win FREE concert tickets!

The fans of BriggsAuto.Com Speedway enjoyed all the action that the folks from 92.9 The Bull provided all night long.

Many fans were treated to a free hot dog as the group

Have you ever looked at trailer outside of turn number 4 at the track? Have you ever gone up and seen what was in the that trailer? That's what I thought.

If you would like to get

Saturday night gains some more excitement as the Bull 92.9 invades BriggsAuto.Com Speedway!

tossed them out to the crowd during intermission.

I have a theory on why the good people at 92.9 The Bull will be back this weekend. It's simple, they had a ton of FUN!

Everyone that comes out to BriggsAuto.Com Speedway finds out that there is action off the speedway as well as on the speedway. It's a great way to spend the night having fun with family and friends while enjoy great racing during every race.

Come out and join us!!!!

CHECK OUT THE 2012 SOUVENIRS AT HPT!

yourself some 2012 HPT gear, this is the official spot.

SOME THINGS YOU MIGHT WATCH FOR

Do you ever wish that someone might tell you what to look for when you go to the race track? You are in luck. I am ready to give you a bunch of things to look at this week at BriggsAuto.Com Speedway!

- This season there has been 24 features completed. A total of 18 different winners have rolled into victory lane. Keep your eyes out this weekend, I am predicting 3 more new feature winners out of 4 features.
- Last week the Super 8 at Forbes Landing Factory Stocks went flag to flag in their feature event. Watch this week to see if they do it again or if one of the other classes can go a feature race without drawing a yellow!

- Have you ever watched the officials on the track? From time to time they can get pretty animated. Something falling off a car can incite emotion or a driver not paying attention can fire one of these track employees. Keep an eye on the 4 workers on the track, see if you can catch their emotional sequences. Next week there might even be a quiz!

- Watch for the drivers that sign autographs when you come in the gate. Each week two drivers set up shop on the way into the track. They sign autographs, visit with fans and hand out picture cards for FREE!

These are just a few things to watch for this weekend.

What do you fans notice when you are at the race track. We here at Race Night Notes would like to know what you see, if you want to let us know, jot some thoughts down and email them to jr@inthe pits.net!

ROOKIES, ROOKIES AND MORE ROOKIES; WHERE ARE THEY AT BRIGGSAUTO.COM SPEEDWAY

Last week I wondered where are the rookies were in the Washburn Tech Modifieds. I talked about Dalton Kirk, but omitted John Grist. This issue got me thinking about a lot of rookies racing in all of the classes.

Randal Schiffelbein Jr. and Byron Glotzbach are two rookies having success in the Casey's General Store Pure Stock division. There are a few other rookies in the class like Jim Christian and Ron Kohn.

The White Line CDL Training B Mod division has a pretty prominent rookie. Dave Samuels, 2x Factory Stock

Champ, is a rookie in the class. Currently he is running in the top 5 in the early season point standings.

Each week we are going to start updating you where all the rookies are in each of the classes at the race track. That's after we locate them!

FANS HPT NEEDS YOUR PARTICIPATION ASAP!

Ever since last season we have seen an upswing in fan participation at BriggsAuto.Com Speedway.

Darren Davenport has a wild bunch that sits on the front straight grandstands, Fuqua & Murphy have a vocal bunch over in the turn 3 & 4 bleachers and Steve Herrick also has some loyal fans.

Who is your favorite driver or drivers? Race Night Notes wants to see the fans support their drivers.

Make some noise, wear matching t-shirts, put together a poster! Do something to draw attention to your favorite driver.

Scream, chant, do what you want just do something!

Starting next week Race Night Notes will start awarding those that bring their passion to the track!!!

Fans! Who's your favorite!

JEREMY CHAMBERS HAD ONE HELLUVA WEEKEND LAST WEEK!

Jeremy Chambers isn't your normal BriggsAuto.Com Speedway.

Most racers would be happy with a single win on the weekend.

When he tows to race at the track, it takes him awhile to get there. Parsons, KS is where Chambers hails from and to get to BriggsAuto.Com Speedway it's almost a 3 hour drive. One way!

Chambers started his weekend racing at Humboldt Speedway on Friday night and picked up the USRA B Mod win.

Jeremy Chambers #17 picked up 3 feature wins last weekend. Reed Bros.

Last Saturday night it was a good night for Chambers. In the White Line CDL Training B Mod A Main he would get by Dustin Thulin to get his 1st win at HPT in the B Mod divisions.

He celebrated by driving up to BriggsAuto.Com Speedway and picked up his 2nd win of the Memorial Day weekend. Whew!

Sunday night a 2nd race was being held at Humboldt Speedway. Chambers went back to where the winning started! What did he do? He picked up win number 3 in just 3 days. It shows fans and other racers just how tough the competition is at BriggsAuto.Com Speedway.

6 MOD FEATRUES 6 DIFFERENT WINNERS!

Last Saturday night Grant Junghans became the 6th different winner in the Washburn Tech Modified class.

At this rate we are on pace for 20 different winners this season in the division.

Do you fans realize what we are seeing? It's pretty amazing if you think about it.

This means that bar has been raised when it comes to the level of competition at the track.

Darron Fuqua is 1 of 6 different winners in the Modifieds in 2012. Reed Bros.

Last season we only had total of 7 different winners after 22

Who is going to be the next one to join this elite group?

DO YOU HAVE WHAT IT TAKES TO RACE

Fans sit in the crowd every week and they watch the action on the track. From time to time you will here someone say, "Why did they do that, I could drive better than that."

grand stands every week.

The simple fact is that maybe that the person that makes that comment could be right. They might be able to drive better. You know what though? Nobody will ever find out if you continue to sit in the BriggsAuto.Com Speedway has a perfect class to get your racing career started, the Casey's General Store Pure Stock class.

A Pure Stock might be the thing to get your racing career started.

Fans can get a car for a reasonable price, there isn't a lot of adjustments to be made and after watching 22 cars start the feature last week it looks like a lot of fun.

If you have ever thought about it, this might just be your time to make a move and get out there!

THIS WEEK'S DRIVERS TO WATCH!

Each week Race Night Notes gives you a few drivers to keep an eye on. Here's this week's:

Justin Johnson #7J Gardner, KS - Washburn Tech Modified - What a difference a year makes and getting a win. Ever since Johnson picked up a win at HPT last season, he has been a fast mover each and every week. His GRT by Phillips Chassis seems to fit his driving style and look for good things out of this youngster. Last week wasn't his normal run for 2012, but watch for him this week. I have a feeling he will be making a run back to the front of the feature.

Carl Boyette #7 Ozawkie, KS - Super 8 at Forbes Landing Factory Stock - It was just a few weeks back when most everyone, including me, thought that Boyette's season might be over with after a hard crash. It wasn't over with and he has come back and been a pleasant surprise in the division. Boyette has been pretty fast this season. If he catches a few breaks on race night it might be just the thing

Cody Agler #77 Modified Emporia, KS

James King #60K Factory Stock Americus, KS

Rich Boyden #4U B Mod Topeka, KS

AJ Christian #355 Pure Stock (Topeka)

that he needs to get to the front of the Factory Stock feature event.

Brian Hey #11C Wellsville, KS White Line CDL Training B Mod - Last week Hey had his best finish at BriggsAuto.Com Speedway with a 4th place finish. To start out the 2012 season he has been running better than ever. Hey has got nice equipment and as he continues to get a handle on it, he might become a tough competitor.

Byron Glotzbach #59 Tecumseh, KS - Casey's General Store Pure Stock - It was just a week ago that Glotzbach, a fan turned racer in 2012, almost stunned the fans at the track with a feature win. He has the perfect attitude when it comes to his racing career, just have fun! In the process of having fun, he is getting faster and better every week. Last week's race with Jesse Shotts should prove that he should be a force to be reckoned with in the Pure Stock division.
